

UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Department of Spanish & Portuguese

SLLC UNIVERSITY OF MARYLAND

Programa de Doctorado Departamento de Español y Portugués

A la magnífica ubicación de la Universidad de Maryland se suman la excelencia académica y las amplias oportunidades en investigación y de desarrollo profesional. El Departamento de Español y Portugués se destaca por su labor académica, su compromiso con la comunidad y la organización de charlas y seminarios con escritores e investigadores de la talla de Elena Poniatowska, Beatriz Sarlo, Carlos Gamarro, Cristina Rivera Garza y Juan Villoro.

Para más información: <https://slc.umd.edu/spanish/graduate/phdprogram>
Consultas: Ryan Long, Director de Estudios Graduados | rlong12@umd.edu

PROFESORES

Laura Demaría

Latin American Literature & The Southern Cone

Juan Carlos Quintero-Herencia

Contemporary Latin American & Caribbean Literature, Literary Politics

Saúl Sosnowski

Contemporary Latin American & Latin American Jewish Literature

Ryan Long

Contemporary Mexico & Latin America, Cultural Production & Politics

Eyda M. Merediz

Early Transatlantic Studies, Colonial Latin America

Ana Patricia Rodríguez

U.S. Latino/a, Central American Literatures & Cultures, Transnational Cultural Studies

Regina Igel

Brazilian Literature & Culture, Latin American Jewish Literature

Thayse Leal Lima

19th Century & Contemporary Brazilian Literature, Latin American Intellectual History

Carmen Benito-Vessels

Medieval Literature and Historiography, Women and Ethnic Diversity in Medieval Spain

José M. Naharro-Calderón

Exile Studies, Spanish Film Studies

Hernán S. M. De Pinillos

17th Century Spanish Literature, Don Quixote in the U.S.

Mehl A. Penrose

18th & 19th Century Spanish Literature, Gender & Sexuality

Profesores eméritos activos

Jorge Aguilar-Mora

19th & 20th Century Latin American Literature
Award-winning writer

Sandra M. Cypess

Women in Latin American Literature
Latin American Theatre

Regina Harrison

Comparative Literature, Latin American, Colonial and Indigenous Studies